Make an Impact | Become an RGS

Want an exciting opportunity to live in and participate actively in the life of the undergraduate residential colleges? Consider becoming a Resident Graduate Student (RGS)! The Resident Graduate Student (RGS) program is intended to enhance the residential college experience and help foster a fully integrated campus community that unites under-graduates of all four years, graduate students and faculty across the disciplines, and staff.

Final info session:
Wednesday, January 10
Butler and Wilson Colleges
4:30 pm, 1915 Room, Butler College

Application materials are available here and are due by noon on Thursday, January 18, 2018.

Leading with a Ph.D. Graduate Student Conference | Finding Confidence & Connection Through Communication

Saturday, January 13
9 am-3 pm
Frist MPR

In its third year, the Leading with a Ph.D. conference provides graduate students the opportunity come together across disciplines for a day of professional skill development on a particular topic. It’s free and on-campus! The theme of the conference this year is finding confidence and connection through communication!

Space is limited: first come, first served! RSVP here

GradSpeak | Public Speaking Workshop

Wednesday, January 17
12:00 - 1:30 pm
Dillon Court East, Room E08 | Princeton Writes

Do you have a conference presentation, job interview or networking opportunity coming up? Practice among peers can help you learn to relax and communicate clearly one-on-one or with a group, no matter what the occasion. Space is limited.
Have International Travel Plans? | What all International Students Need to Know About the Visa Process & More

Tuesday, January 30
12pm, Simpson MPR B60

Are you an international student who is thinking about academic international travel plans for the summer or next academic year? Do you have questions about the planning process or what information and documentation you will need? Join us to address your concerns about enrollment, funding, visa wait times, and ways to speak with your adviser about your visa process.

We will be joined by senior graduate students who will speak to you about how they tackled the process and ways they’ve found to proactively address potential issues. We will also have Davis International Center and Graduate School staff on hand to answer questions you may have about the policies and procedures that impact the visa process. To make sure this session addresses student needs we welcome you to submit questions at the time of your RSVP.

Space is limited. RSVP by Friday, January 19 to reserve your spot.

PU Library | Consolidation of Online Search Services

Reminder: please note the consolidation of our online search services.

Princeton University Library will be consolidating online search services at the end of the fall semester. Effective January 29, 2018, the 20-year-old “Main Catalog” will be retired, and we will offer a single Catalog (formerly known as the “New Catalog”). If you have any questions or would like search assistance, please contact us or find our site here.

Princeton Research Day | Application Now Open

Thursday, May 10, 2018
Frist Campus Center

Princeton Research Day is a celebration of the research and creative endeavors by our undergraduates, graduate students, postdoctoral researchers and fellows, and other early career researchers. The third-annual campus-wide event will feature poster presentations, exhibits, performances, selected talks and an award ceremony for outstanding contributions. The all-day event is free and open to the public. We encourage all academic departments and centers at Princeton to reserve May 10, 2018, for this special event, and to support participation by your undergraduates, graduate students, postdoctoral researchers and fellows, and other early career researchers.

Dates to remember:
Dec. 1: Call for applications to present at PRD18
Feb. 16: Priority application deadline
April 2: Presenters informed of presentation format
May 10: Princeton Research Day
