Part of The Graduate School’s mission is to ensure that our graduate students have the skills they need to succeed professionally as well as academically. With that in mind, our office and our campus partners provide a full range of professional development opportunities and resources for graduate students. You’ll see them highlighted here each week. Get involved and grow!

Visit Our Website

In This Issue...

- The McGraw Center | Upcoming Programs
- Insight Data Fellows Programs | Apply by October 23
- Academic Job Search | Networking In Academia Workshop
- Launch of ImaginePhD | A Career Tool for Humanities and Social Science Ph.D.s
- Workshop | Know the Numbers: Basics of Financial Accounting for Social Impact
- Short Courses | Writing in Quantitative Research Fields
- Carpe Careers | It's Not Just About Work-Life Balance
- MCCC Princeton Teaching Partnership Program | Apply by November 1
- Princeton University Press Reception and Seminar | Coming in November
- Internship Opportunities

Wednesday, November 1
Designing a Course
3:30-5:00pm

Are you preparing a new syllabus for a new teaching position or job search? This workshop examines course design and syllabus preparation.
Notes from the Field
9:30am–4pm
Convened by John A. Hall, James McGill Professor of Sociology, McGill University
Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Professor for Distinguished Teaching in the University Center for Human Values, Princeton University
Co-sponsored by the University Center for Human Values and the McGraw Center for Teaching and Learning, this conference will explore such rich topics as teaching Modern Middle East History, teaching the history of sexuality, and incorporating data and quantitative methods in undergraduate and graduate-level courses.

You are welcome to attend any one or all of the sessions. Complete schedule Here

RSVP to reserve a seat for lunch (for attendees at the late morning and/or early afternoon panel).

---

Insight Data Fellows Programs

Application Deadline: October 23

Insight is now accepting applications for the January 2018 fellowships in Data Science, Health Data Science, Data Engineering, and Artificial Intelligence. 900+ Insight alumni are now data scientists and data engineers at Facebook, LinkedIn, The New York Times, Apple, Airbnb, Netflix, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, Github, Slack, Seven Bridges Genomics, Twitter, Bloomberg, NBC, Pinterest, Microsoft, and 250+ other top companies. Learn more Here

---

Academic Job Search | Networking In Academia Workshop

Wednesday, October 25
12pm-1:30pm, Class of 1952 Room – Frist

Networking is such a common topic these days, but what does it really mean? Come to the workshop to learn the tips and tricks that successful faculty members and Ph.D.’s use to forge relationships in the academic world. This workshop will provide hands-on examples as well as ample opportunities for questions for the experts. Register Here
Launch of ImaginePhD | A Career Exploration and Planning Tool for Humanities and Social Science Ph.D.s

Friday, October 27
Launch Party Luncheon
Noon-1:30pm, 330 Frist Campus Center

Trade in your anxiety about the job market with an action plan designed specifically for graduate students in the humanities and social sciences. ImaginePhD is set to go-live on October 23. Free to all universities across the country. Join us for a lunch launch party! RSVP Here And for more information on the ImaginePhD program see Here

---

Workshop | Know the Numbers: The Basics of Financial Accounting for Social Impact

Friday, October 27
12:30- 3:00pm, Entrepreneurial Hub, Room 115

In this Keller Center mini-course, Brian Trelstad, Partner of Bridges Ventures and Former CIO of Acumen (and trustee of Guidestar, VisionSpring and former trustee of Isles) and Marty Johnson ’81, Founder and CEO of Isles, Inc., will offer a lively overview of financial accounting for impact organizations. The interactive session will cover the basics of the big three: the balance sheet, income statement and cash flow statement. This mini-course is open to undergraduates, graduates and postdocs. Lunch will be served and registration is required. Register Here

---

Short Courses | Writing in Quantitative Research Fields

A few spaces remain in the Writing in Science and Engineering graduate courses beginning after fall break — WRI 501: Writing about the Literature; and WRI 503: Research Article Writing. Quantitative Social Science students welcome too! Don’t delay — apply today!
Read more Here
Carpe Careers | It's Not Just About Work-Life Balance

“So now is the time to develop the skills to strategically balance your work priorities -- and to do so in a way that improves your career prospects,” says Lynn Talton. Lynn is director of the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs at the David Geffen School of Medicine at the University of California, Los Angeles. She is a member of the Graduate Career Consortium -- an organization providing a national voice for graduate-level career and professional development leaders.

Read More Here

Mercer County Community College | Princeton Teaching Partnership Program

Apply by Wednesday, November 1

This program provides Princeton University graduate students the opportunity to teach courses at Mercer County Community College while being mentored by an experienced tenured faculty member at the college. Princeton graduate students will develop as teachers, designing and delivering their own courses in their academic fields while learning about teaching at a community college.

To apply, please submit a teaching-focused cover letter and CV through SAFE along with a statement from their adviser that indicates they have permission to apply (this may be sent via email to Amy Pszczolkowski, Assistant Dean for Professional Development, Office of the Dean of the Graduate School.

Read more Here.

Princeton University Press Reception and Seminar | Coming in November
Thursday, November 16
PUP Reception
4:30 pm, PU Press
41 William Street (Press Building Lobby)

Would you like to learn more about Princeton University Press and academic book publishing? Join us for a casual reception in the lobby of the Press's building here on campus and get the chance to meet and chat with members of the press's editorial team and staff to learn more about the work they do and the PUP publishing program. Wine and light appetizers will be served. Space is limited to those who RSVP.

Friday, November 17
Seminar with PU Press Editors
Noon-1:30 pm, PU Press
41 William Street (Press Building Lobby)

Join us for a publishing seminar with editors from Princeton University Press's humanities, social science, and science publishing programs for an in-depth overview of the book publishing process from how to write a proposal, to choosing a publisher, to what to expect in the process, as well as starting a career at an academic press. Join editors by disciplines for a round table lunch discussion. Lunch will be provided. Space is limited, you must RSVP.

Internship Opportunities

Want to spend the summer in NYC or Tel Aviv? Check out the Princeton Start-Up Immersion Program (PSIP). New 2018 internships are being added every day. Register for an upcoming info session to find out more. And don’t forget to like @kellercenterPSIP on Facebook to get latest PSIP news.

The Graduate School | Princeton University | 609.258.3030 | Website

STAY CONNECTED

Facebook
Twitter
Instagram
LinkedIn

Get Involved and Grow