In this Issue | April 19

- Design Your Future | Kick Start for Graduate Students | Wednesday, April 25
- The McGraw Center | Upcoming Programs
- 2018 Summer Research Colloquium | Graduate Instructor Positions
- Teaching in the NJ Correctional Institutions | Info Sessions | April 25 & April 26
- Collaborations in Graduate School and Beyond | May 3
- Careers in Academic Publishing | A few seats left for May 4
- Princeton Research Day | May 10
- University Administrative Fellows | New UAFs Added!
- Carpe Careers Blog | Is a bad handshake such a bad thing?
- Writing Fridays | Sign-up for April 20th

Visit our Website

Design Your Future | Kick Start for Graduate Students
Wednesday, April 25
4:30 pm - 6:00 pm
Campus Club Library, 5 Prospect Ave
RSVP here

What can I do with a Ph.D. or master's degree? How do I begin to explore multiple areas of interest while staying on top of my research and graduation plans? Jump start your exploration by identifying your transferable skills and exploring possible career fields. This active workshop will help you begin the process of exploring your skills, interests and values while providing tools to explore careers.

Graduate Pedagogy Workshops

Mentoring Undergraduate Researchers
Thursday, May 3,
3:30-5:00 p.m.
330 Frist Campus Center
Seating is limited, please RSVP by May 1.

Mentoring undergraduate researchers is extremely rewarding, but it can also be frustrating at times. During this workshop, we will discuss the benefits and challenges of working with young researchers by both drawing on our own experience as young researchers and by working through some common scenarios. You will leave this workshop with a concrete set of effective strategies for improving both your and your mentee’s experiences.

Graduate Learning Program

McGraw Center Graduate Student Academic Consultations
Trained Ph.D.s and advanced Ph.D. students from a variety of disciplines can collaborate with you to develop an individualized approach to graduate school that draws upon your unique profile of strengths and is tailored to the specific demands of your research, courses, teaching, and life. These confidential consultations focus on your personal priorities and tasks. Make an appointment here. Look for appointment slots which indicate “Graduate Consultant” next to the consultant’s name.

2018 Summer Research Colloquium |
Graduate Instructor Positions
Applications due Monday, April 23rd, 12:00pm!

The Office of Undergraduate Research seeks highly motivated graduate students from all divisions to serve as Summer Research Colloquium Graduate Instructors to provide teaching and administrative support for the Summer Research Colloquium (SRC) Program. The time commitment will amount to roughly 10 hours per week from June 11 – August 10, 2018. Applications received by April 23rd will receive full consideration. For additional program and application information, please visit the SRC website.
Teaching in the NJ State and Federal Correctional Institutions | Information Sessions
Session 1: Wednesday, April 25, 4-5:30pm RSVP
Session 2: Thursday, April 26, 12-1:30pm RSVP
330 Frist Campus Center
The Prison Teaching Initiative (PTI) is hosting information sessions for any graduate students and post-docs who are interested in learning more about teaching in New Jersey state and federal correctional institutions. Both sessions will be held in Frist 330. If you have questions, feel free to contact Tara Ronda.

Collaborations in Graduate School and Beyond
Thursday, May 3
4:30 pm - 6:00 pm
206 Frist Campus Center
A workshop on strategies for intellectual collaboration featuring Jill Jarvis (Yale), Lucy McNair (CUNY), and Brahim El Guabli (Princeton), based on their experience editing the JNAS special issue Violence and the Politics of Aesthetics: A Postcolonial Maghreb without Borders. Contact Brahim El Guabli for more information. Sponsored by the Department of Comparative Literature and the Princeton University Center for Human Values. No RSVP needed.

Princeton University Press | Careers in Academic Publishing Seminar for Graduate Students
Friday, May 4, 2018
Noon-1:30 p.m.
Princeton University Press – 41 Williams Street, Princeton
Lunch will be served, please RSVP here
Join professionals from the Princeton University Press, Rutgers University Press, and Columbia University Press for a conversation about careers in academic book publishing. There are many interesting opportunities—from editorial and production to design and publicity—you may not be familiar with in the industry. Learn more about this career option from professionals in the field!

Princeton Research Day
Thursday, May 10
10:30am-5:00pm
Frist Campus Center
Princeton Research Day is a celebration of the research and creative endeavors by our undergraduates, graduate students, postdoctoral researchers and other non faculty researchers. The campus wide event serves as an opportunity for researchers and artists to share their work with the community and includes research from the natural sciences, social sciences, engineering, the arts and humanities. The program features
Talks, posters, performances, art exhibitions, demonstrations, digital presentations and an awards ceremony for outstanding contributions. The event is free and open to the public. Princeton Research Day is a collaborative initiative between the offices of the Dean of the College, the Dean of the Faculty, the Dean of the Graduate School and the Dean for Research.

For a schedule of events and more information, click HERE.

---

Fall 2018 University Administrative Fellows Openings

The UAF Program allows enrolled Ph.D. students (including DCE students) who have completed their general examination an opportunity to work in an administrative capacity for up to six hours per week over the course of the fall semester with a host office. Currently accepting applications:

- Survey Research Center
- Mudd Manuscript Library
- Princeton University Press - Scholarly Publishing Trend Analysis
- Princeton University Press - Production Editorial Processes and New Technology
- Princeton University Press - Data Visualization and Interactive Design
- Office of Technology Licensing
- Community Based Learning Initiative
- Princeton Writes
- Office of Engineering Communications
- IDEAS for Higher Education
- Corporate Engagement and Foundation Relations
- Corporate Engagement and Foundation Relations - Life Sciences
- Office of Career Services
- PACE Center for Civic Engagement
- Office of Undergraduate Research - Princeton Research Day
- Office of the Dean of the Graduate School - Academic Affairs
- Office of Alumni Affairs

More positions will be available over the next few weeks, so please check the website often for updates and be mindful of application deadlines.

Read more...

---

Carpe Careers Blog | Managing Up in Academe

According to the 2013 Gallup "State of the American Workplace" study, the most significant factor influencing an employee's job satisfaction and engagement in their work is their manager. With so much emphasis on this relationship, a growing body of research and even new terminology has emerged to support employees taking a more active role in developing it. Kristy J. Sherrer discusses some industry strategies for effective professional communication and productivity. Kristy is the director of career services at the University of California, Los Angeles, Fielding School of Public Health and a member of the Graduate Career Consortium. Read more...
Writing Fridays | Sign-up by April 19th

This weekly workshop was created with the specific needs of graduate writers in mind. As graduate writers know first-hand, several of the most common obstacles to productive writing are the lack of time dedicated solely to writing, as well as the absence of a system of support. Modeled on the Writing Center Dissertation Bootcamp format, each session begins with an opening briefing (~10 minutes), the purpose of which is to let participants set their goals. The participants will write until 2:45 pm. The workshop will end with a 15-minute discussion of achievements or difficulties encountered in the course of the session. When you sign up for the workshop, please have in mind that attending these briefings is mandatory. They offer a chance to battle the isolation that writers often find themselves in, introduce an accountability element so that it's easier to deliver on your plans and offer emotional support. If you ever think that you are too slow or your writing task is just too daunting, come and get the support of your peers. It's easier when you are not alone! The series is generously funded by the McGraw Center for Teaching and Learning, Princeton Writing Program, Graduate Student Government, History Department and Slavic Department. If you have any questions, contact Elizaveta Mankovskaya at em18@princeton.edu

The Graduate School | Princeton University | 609-258-9675 | Website

Part of The Graduate School's mission is to ensure that our graduate students have the skills they need to succeed professionally as well as academically. Our office and campus partners provide a full range of professional development opportunities and resources for graduate students. We hope you will take full advantage of of all the Princeton graduate education has to offer.

Get involved and grow!

Stay Connected

Facebook
Twitter
Instagram