Versatile PhD | NYC Chapter Meeting
Sunday July 29th, 4:00-6:00pm
Whole Foods Cafe, Columbus Ave at 97th Street

NYC VersatilePhD meetings provide monthly networking opportunities for humanities and social science PhDs, ABDs and students currently in PhD programs who are considering, or have followed, career paths outside of academia. Students of other disciplines contemplating non-traditional career paths are also welcome.

This month's meetup is being hosted by Christina A. Furtado, PhD, Prospect Research Associate at Environmental Defense Fund, New York. You are invited to prepare a sixty-second "elevator speech" describing your post-academic/pre-dissertation story. The remainder of the meeting will be an opportunity to informally network and discuss job searches.

Join the meeting on Sunday, July 29th from 4:00 - 6:00 PM at Whole Foods Cafe on Columbus Avenue at 97th Street (convenient to the 1, 2, 3, and C trains) for the next meeting of NYC chapter of Versatile PhD (https://versatilephd.com). Look for the sign on the table. Please RSVP by e-mail to nyc.vphd@gmail.com to reserve your spot, attendance is free of cost.

Our LinkedIn group includes over 541 members in New York City area and beyond who work in areas as varied as advertising, analytics, editing, electronics, the environment, ethics, ethnography, film, arts, finance, healthcare, history, law, marketing, museums, neuroscience, nonprofit, policy, publishing, real estate, strategy, teaching and translation.

Start-up Job Opportunities
#MondayOpenings

Leading off this week's #MondayOpenings is a blog post by Myles McGinley '15, co-founder of an innovative new notebook app Tangle, entitled "6 Universal Lessons I've Learned As A Founder".

ScienceCareers Article | How Silicon Valley design principles can help you pick your post-Ph.D. path

The key to finding a fulfilling career lies in the principles that Silicon Valley innovators use to design products. That's the premise of a best-selling book by Dave Evans and Bill Burnett, co-founders of the Life Design Lab at Stanford University in Palo Alto, California, who have spent nearly a decade teaching students how to navigate life beyond graduation. University Administrative Fellows

The UAF Program allows enrolled Ph.D. students (including DCE students) an opportunity to be mentored by a Princeton administrator and work on a project in their area for up to six hours per week over the course of the fall semester for a stipend of $1,000. A few opportunities remain:

- Princeton University Press - Production Editorial Processes and New Technology
- Office of Engineering Communications
- Corporate Engagement and Foundation Relations - Life Sciences
- Office of Career Services
- Pace Center for Civic Engagement
- Office of Undergraduate Research - Princeton Research Day
- Office of the Dean of the Graduate School - Academic Affairs
- Office of Alumni Affairs

iBiology Courses | Helping you navigate your scientific journey

Take advantage of 2 online training courses in a self-paced format: Planning Your Scientific Journey and Business Concepts for Life Scientists. These courses, which are free and accessible at any time, can help graduate students become more effective scientists and plan for their future careers.

For more information, visit https://courses.ibiology.org/.
The Data Incubator | Data Science Fellowship

The Data Incubator is an intensive 8 week fellowship that prepares masters students, PhDs, and postdocs in STEM and social science fields seeking industry careers as data scientists. The program is free for Fellows and supported by sponsorships from hundreds of employers across multiple industries. In response to the overwhelming interest in our earlier sessions, we will be holding another fellowship. Anyone who has already obtained a masters or PhD degree or who is within one year of graduating with a masters or PhD is welcome to apply. Applications from international students are welcome. Everyone else is encouraged to sign-up for a future session.
